Yibin Dong CV, Virginia Tech, 2023:

Dong is a seasonal professional of information security and very large database management. Dong joined AiC as a part-time post-doctoral student. Began researching in constructing longitudinal personal health records (PHRs) in 2017, his research focuses on protecting data security and privacy from insider threats and building a useful sharing platform for PHRs using blockchain technology and next generation access control model.

Dong received a doctoral degree in computer engineering for his research in blockchain-enabled secure and trusted longitudinal personalized health records at Virginia Tech. He received a Bachelor of Engineering in Computer Communications from Nanjing University of Posts and Telecommunications, a M.S. in Telecommunications and Network Management from Syracuse University, and a M.S. in Computer Science from Catholic University of America.